ACCOLADE

presents

The Song of the Knights

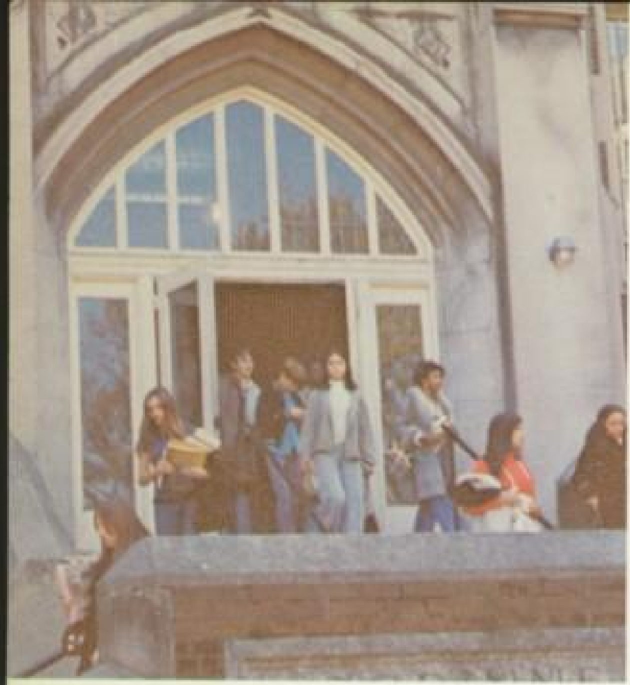

Darkness, and the sound of hoofbeats pounding 'cross the ground,
Darkness, and the call of trumpets heard for miles around,
See them riding through the moonlit fields;
See the stars reflected on their shields;
White plumes flashing, armor crashing,
The night is filled with battle sounds.
Here come the BLACK KNIGHTS riding from the west;
Here come the BLACK KNIGHTS onward without rest;
Eleven mighty horsemen, wheeling to the right,
Eleven mighty lances, cutting through the night.
Here come the BLACK KNIGHTS, riding to the fray;
Here come the BLACK KNIGHTS, they ride to save the day,
Riding to glory in a manner all of their own,
The BLACK KNIGHTS from Cohn.

For What We Hold

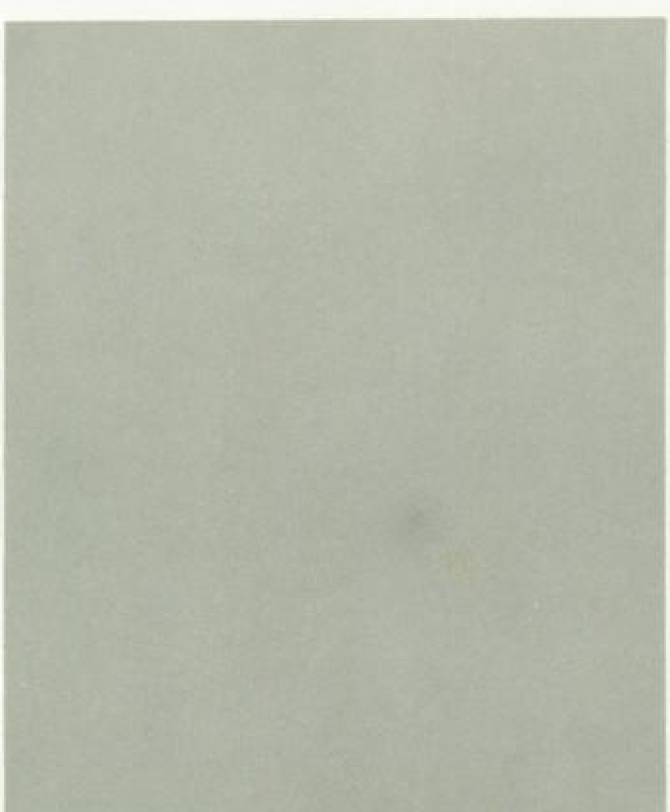

We, the Cohn Accolade Staff, proudly dedicate the 1973 edition of our annual to Miss Pat Tipton for her years of patient and tireless effort in sponsoring the GAA's, the cheerleaders, and most recently coaching the girls' basketball team. She has served as one of Cohn's physical education teachers, building character and bringing out the finest qualities of innumerable students.

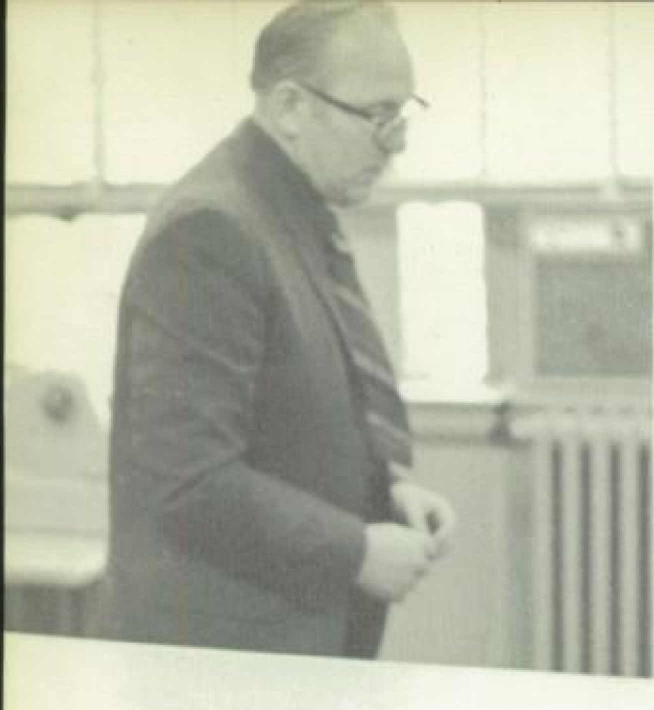

Under her excellent leadership many students have reached heights of success, and countless others have greatly benefited by her influence. She will always hold the love, admiration, and respect of all who know her.

Men's Club

For many years, Cohn School has had a Men's Club. Membership of this club consists of the faculty, fathers of students, alumni, and all other men in our community.

Again this year, the purpose of the club is to assist the faculty and student body to improve the program and facilities for Cohn School. The club awarded ten scholarships last year to deserving graduates. We assisted our football team by sharing a part of the expense of football camp. We also sponsored a hospitality room and concessions at the home basketball games.

Our goal for 1972-73 is to have a better Men's Club. We appreciate Cohn School, its faculty, and its students very much.

What is PTSA? It is parents, teachers, and students joining together to promote the welfare of children and youth in the home, school, church, and community. It is people taking action learning of student opportunities, observing American Education Week, observing Founders Day, attending State Convention, teacher appreciation dinner, election of new officers, parents vs. teachers basketball game, financial aid to student activities — the Honor Society, Junior Red Cross, vocal and instrumental music — contributing to the Cohn welfare fund, and representation in all areas of PTSA.

SENIORS

Message to the Class of 1973

Dear Seniors:

An important chapter of your life will soon come to a close with your graduation from high school. Many of you plan to enter the world of work while others continue a course of formal education in college or trade school. Your days at Cohn will soon be just a memory, however, your successful completion of high school has opened doors for you which would have otherwise remained closed.

For the first time in many years this country is no longer engaged in war. There is a good possibility that young men may soon serve in the military only through choice. This does not mean that the threat of war no longer exists or that we can take world peace for granted. The young people have played an important role in helping formulate the policies which removed us from Vietnam. They must continue to work in this direction if we are to achieve a lasting peace.

Two years ago many of you were transferred from two other high schools. You had no choice in this, yet you demonstrated that in spite of loyalty to your former school you had the capacity to adjust to change. More important, you have shown respect for your fellow students and made many worthwhile contributions to this school.

You will soon be faced with the decision of choosing your life's work. I trust that your experience at Cohn will help you in this all-important decision and that you consider those who contribute to their fellow man to be the truly successful.

Cohn is a great school because of you and those who have gone before you. I congratulate you and wish for each of you a most successful and happy future.

IT'S TIME TO GO

It's time to go,
But how could it be?
Why! We came here only yesterday,
I thought it would last an eternity.

But yes, it's time to go,
The world awaits!
Our days here have been spent,
It's time to graduate!

Prepared or unprepared,
We know within our heart;
With joy that is almost pain,
We are ready to depart.

We leave early loves and friendships old,
Our girlish and boyish days;
These are memories that will not die,
No one can take them away.

Now, where do we go?
Our fate is past our knowing;
We need His hand to guide us,
For we know not where we are going.

Trembling we leave,
As with the chill of snow;
Gone on the journey of life,
We all must go.

God Bless!
